Notes from Fr. PJ

Dear Friends in Christ,

Peace and Joy!

Not many of us know yet about Venerable Pauline Marie Jaricot. She grew up in Lyon, France and at the age of 15, she suffered a bad fall. Not long after that, her beloved mother died. It took Pauline many months to recover, emotionally and physically.

While in recovery, she began to long to help the Missions – China and the United States – a desire nurtured by her brother Phileas, who was preparing for the priesthood and who told Pauline all about the work and witness of missionaries. Pauline saw this as her vocation – to become a missionary of the love of God. She came to believe that “to truly help others is to bring them to God.”

Pauline’s successful efforts to help the missionaries were the main thrust behind the formation of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith. She was “the match that lit the fire.” By 1922, the Society for the Propagation of the Faith – and three other societies established to help the Missions – became Pontifical, with their headquarters moved to Rome, under the direction of the Pope.

With the first 100 years of its existence, the Society for the Propagation of the Faith sent some $7 million in help to the young church in the United States. Today, Catholics here at home contribute about 25 percent of the support collected through the Propagation of the Faith for the 1,150 mission dioceses worldwide, mostly in Africa and Asia.

There are three aspects of Pauline’s life and witness to our common missionary vocation that we can model in our own lives.

- ♦ Commitment to mission every day. For Pauline, mission was not reserved for certain moments, but for every day. The “circles” of workers in her family’s silk factory pledged daily prayer and regular sacrifice. Each day, may we offer a prayer for those who serve in mission churches across the world, and for the poor and vulnerable who hear their message about the “hope that saves”!
- ♦ A vision of the whole world. Pauline felt strongly that help offered to the Missions of her day should be universal – that no one be forgotten. And when the Society for the Propagation of the Faith was formally established on May 3, 1822, that same vision prevailed – prayer and sacrifice for the world’s Missions.
- ♦ Live in love. As a young woman, Pauline expressed the desire to “love without measure, without end.” Whether it was her work for the Missions, or for the sick or the poor, love motivated the actions of Pauline Jaricot. Indeed at the heart of the mission vocation is the commandment to love. Our love should pour forth into the community, extending beyond ourselves, to those faraway places, where nobody is watching, where the vulnerable are forgotten, and the poor are often abandoned. That’s where the missionary will be. That’s where, through the Pontifical Mission Societies, you may be also – through your daily prayers and regular sacrifices.

As the Director of Missions for the Diocese of Trenton, it is my honor and blessing to represent our local Church and that of the United States at the Beatification of Venerable Pauline Marie. This will be held on Sunday, May 22nd, in Lyon, France. She will be raised to the honor of the altars on the bicentenary of the foundation of the Pontifical Society for the Propagation of the Faith, during the Eucharistic celebration presided over by the Prefect of the Congregation for the Evangelization of Peoples, Cardinal Luis Antonio Tagle.

Take care, everyone, and keep well.

With my prayers,

Fr. PJ
